DECLARATION OF LAURA LEE PRATHER

I, Laura Lee Prather, hereby declare pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746:

1. My name is Laura Lee Prather. I am a partner at the law firm of Haynes and Boone, LLP and lead counsel for Defendants in the above-captioned lawsuit. I am over the age of twenty-one (21) years and am fully competent to make this declaration. I have prepared this Declaration for the purpose of testifying regarding the amount of the award for reasonable attorney's fees. As lead attorney in this case, I am personally familiar with the services that attorneys at Haynes and Boone provided to Defendants in this matter. These services were either performed by me or with my knowledge. Therefore, the facts stated in this declaration are within my personal knowledge and are true and correct.

A. Experience and Qualifications.

2. I am an attorney duly licensed to practice law in the State of Texas. I have been licensed to practice law since 1991. I am licensed to practice in the Eastern District of Texas, in addition to the U.S. Supreme Court, the Fifth, Ninth, and Tenth Circuit Courts of Appeals, and the Northern, Southern, and Western Districts of Texas. I am also licensed in the states of California and New York and the District of Columbia.

3. My practice has been and continues to be devoted to civil litigation involving the media. As such, I am familiar with the reasonable fees charged by attorneys in Texas, including attorneys in the Eastern District of Texas for work similar to that involved in the claims asserted in this action. My accomplishments as an attorney are set forth in my firm biography, which is attached hereto as Exhibit A. I am qualified by knowledge, skill, experience, training, and education to make the statements contained in this affidavit. For example, I received the 2019 Tony Mauro Media Lawyer Award by the American Lawyer for my efforts advocating for legislation to strengthen First Amendment rights in Texas. I have also recently been recognized in the following publications and organizations:

- a. The Best Lawyers in America, Woodward/White, Inc., for Litigation - First Amendment, 2020;
- b. Best Lawyers as a 2020 “Lawyer of the Year,” Woodward/White, Inc.; and
- c. Texas Diversity Council with the Houston Top 50 Women Lawyers Award, 2017.

B. Records Considered and Relied Upon.

4. I was assisted in this matter primarily by Haynes and Boone partners David Harper and Stephanie Sivinski, and Associate Wesley Lewis. Each of these attorneys assisted in drafting, reviewing, and revising the Motion to Compel pleadings. I supervised the work performed by each of these attorneys. Firm biographies for these attorneys are set forth in Exhibits B, C, and D, attached hereto.

5. The nature of the services these attorneys provided is fully and fairly described in the contemporaneous time records kept by my firm in connection with this matter and in the periodic bills for those services that were sent to Defendants. Time entry records are kept by the firm in the regular course of business, and it was the regular course of business of the firm for each time keeper to make the time-entry records or transmit information thereof to be included in such records. The time-entry records were made at or near the time that the hours were worked or reasonably soon thereafter. The firm then generates invoices containing the time-entry records.

6. Without waiting any applicable attorney-client privilege or work product, redacted copies of the invoices for work performed in November and December 2019, and January, February, and April 2020 are attached hereto as Exhibits E, F, G, H, and I. These records show the specific services performed by the attorneys on the case.

7. Any time entry not relating to the Motion to Compel, and for which Defendants do not seek attorney's fees, have been redacted to preserve attorney-client privilege. The names of specific individual in-house attorneys have also been redacted to preserve confidentiality. However, the unredacted portions of the invoices contained in Exhibits E – I are sufficient to evaluate the attorney's fees that Defendants seek to recover. For ease of reference, a summary of the relevant billing entries including billing attorney, date worked, description of work, applicable billing rate, and time worked is contained in Exhibit J, attached hereto.

8. A summary of the time Haynes and Boone attorneys worked on the Motion to Compel is set forth in the table below, which reflects actual amounts billed to Defendants and which has been or will be paid:

Time Keeper	Title	Rate	Total Hours	Fee Amount
--------------------	--------------	-------------	--------------------	-------------------

Laura Prather	Partner	$475	32.1	$15,247.50
David Harper	Partner	$475	1.9	$902.50
Stephanie Sivinski	Partner	$325-$475	16.6	$7,015.00
Wesley Lewis	Associate	$325	58.6	$19,045.00
Total			109.2	$42,210.00

9. In rendering my opinions, I have also considered records provided by my co-counsel in this case, including the Declaration of David Bodney and the exhibits attached thereto (the “Ballard Records”). Based on the Ballard records, I have generated the following summary of the time worked by the Ballard attorneys:

Time Keeper	Title	Rate	Total Hours	Fee Amount
David Bodney	Partner	$485	22.7	$11,009.50
Ian Bucon	Associate	$395	41.2	$16,274.00
Total			63.9	$27,283.50

10. The fees billed by Defendants’ counsel are not contingent on the outcome of this litigation but are fixed, hourly rates. The tasks performed included legal and factual research in preparation for drafting the Motion to Compel and associated briefing, conferring with opposing counsel regarding Plaintiff’s deficient discovery, reviewing documents that Plaintiff produced in related litigation and third-party discovery to identify deficiencies in Plaintiff’s document production in this case, and drafting, revising, and filing the Motion to Compel and associated briefing.

C. Legal Standards.

11. In rendering my opinions regarding the amounts of reasonable attorney's fees incurred by Defendants, I have considered the Fifth Circuit's jurisprudence regarding what proof of attorney's fees should include. I have also considered this Court's Order, which requires Defendants to support their fee application with "documentation evidencing the 'lodestar' calculation, including affidavits and detailed billing records . . . and must set forth the itemized number of hours expended in connection with the recoverable attorneys' fees described above as well as the reasonable rate(s) requested." Dkt. 147 at 22-23.

12. The lodestar is calculated by multiplying the number of hours an attorney reasonably spent on the case by an appropriate hourly rate, which is the market rate in the community for this work. See Smith & Fuller, P.A. v. Cooper Tire & Rubber Co., 685 F.3d 486, 490 (5th Cir. 2012). "A reasonable hourly rate is the prevailing market rate in the relevant legal community for similar services by lawyers of reasonably comparable skills, experience, and reputation." Norman v. Hous. Auth. of City of Montgomery, 836 F.2d 1292, 1299 (11th Cir. 1988) (citing Blum v. Stenson, 465 U.S. 886, 895-96 n. 11 (1984)). The relevant legal community is the community in which the district court sits. See Tollett v. City of Kemah, 285 F.3d 357, 368 (5th Cir. 2002).

13. While the lodestar is presumed reasonable, the Court may either accept the lodestar figure or decrease or enhance it based on the circumstances of the case, taking into account what are referred to as the Johnson factors, which are: (1) the time and labor required; (2) the novelty and difficulty of the legal issues; (3) the skill required to perform the legal service properly; (4) the preclusion of other employment by the attorney as a result of taking the case; (5) the customary fee; (6) whether the fee is fixed or contingent; (7) time limitations imposed by the client or other circumstances; (8) the monetary amount involved and the results obtained; (9) the experience, reputation, and ability of the attorneys; (10) whether the case is undesirable; (11) the nature and duration of the professional relationship with the client; and (12) awards in similar cases. Johnson v. Ga. Highway Express, Inc., 488 F.2d 714, 717-19 (5th Cir. 1974), overruled on other grounds by Blanchard v. Bergeron, 489 U.S. 87, 90 (1989).

D. Reasonableness of the Fees Sought.

14. Because of my twenty-nine years of experience as a practicing attorney in Texas, I am familiar with the usual and customary rates charged by other attorneys at large law firms in Texas for similar work. My hourly rates in this matter, as well as those of the other attorneys who worked on this matter, are will within the range of these customary rates.

15. Performance of the specific tasks described in the redacted invoices required a total of 173.1 hours. Application of the above-specified hourly rates charged by each attorney to the specific amounts of time for each specified task performed yields a total attorney's fees of $69,493.50. In my opinion, this lodestar amount is reasonable in light of the relevant Johnson factors that I consider in detail below, and does not warrant either a decrease or enhancement of the lodestar amount.

Time and Labor Required

16. Significant time—12.5 hours by the Haynes and Boone team—was spent preparing to draft the Motion to Compel, including to meet and confer with Butowsky's counsel. For example, because Defendants had initially served its requests for production five months before Butowsky ever produced documents, Defendants' counsel had to draft chronologies of the many meet and confers conducted and correspondence sent alerting Butowsky's counsel to the deficiencies in his production. Counsel spent an additional 5 hours reviewing Butowsky's productions in other, related litigation to identify deficiencies in Butowsky's production in this case.

17. Significant time—40.6 hours by the Haynes and Boone team and 42.2 hours by the Ballard team—was also spent drafting and revising the Motion to Compel. This is a reasonable amount of time to draft and revise this complex Motion to Compel. Butowsky's discovery deficiencies were so broad and pervasive that the Motion to Compel had to address 45 Requests for Production and 3 Interrogatories. It also had to address Butowsky's (1) alteration and manipulation of the few documents he had produced in this matter, (2) his efforts to obstruct third party discovery efforts, and (3) his discovery failures in multiple co-pending, related lawsuits. For example, Defendants had to compare the redacted text messages Butowsky produced against the same text messages obtained from Wheeler in unredacted form to determine what Butowsky was hiding in the redactions. This analysis was included in the Motion to Compel.

18. The Motion also supported Defendants' allegations of deficiencies by analyzing documents received from third parties—Rod Wheeler, Fox News Network, and Aaron Rich—and comparing those documents to Butowsky's production here. For example, this analysis included statistics about the number of emails and text messages that Wheeler exchanged with Butowsky versus the number produced in this case. The Motion was ultimately supported by a declaration and 26 exhibits containing over 450 pages of evidence.

19. In his response, Butowsky continued to maintain that he had completed his discovery obligations. Therefore, counsel spent an additional 61 hours—39.3 hours by the Haynes and Boone team and 21.7 hours by the Ballard team—outlining, drafting, and revising the Reply in support of the Motion to Compel. The Reply closely analyzed the documents Butowsky had produced in related litigation but had failed to produce in this case, including page and document count statistics, which are time-intensive to generate. The Reply also required legal research regarding the sufficiency of Butowsky's objections, which the Court ultimately found insufficient. The Reply was supported by an additional declaration and 30 additional pages of evidence.

20. Because later third-party discovery bolstered Defendants' Motion to Compel, Defendants also drafted two supplemental briefs to present this additional evidence to the Court. The Notice of Supplemental Evidence required an additional 11.8 hours of work—all necessitated by Butowsky's continued refusal to produce documents. Only after the Notice of Supplemental Evidence was filed did Butowsky finally admit that his production was insufficient.

Novelty and Difficulty of the Legal Issues

21. This Motion to Compel did not involve particularly difficult legal issues. However, as set forth above, the factual analysis required to identify Butowsky's discovery deficiencies was extraordinary.

Skill Required to Perform the Legal Service Properly

22. The areas of free speech, defamation, and speech-related claims pled under alternate theories are highly specialized and complex. An extremely small number of attorneys in the State specialize in this area. After the U.S. Supreme Court began to "constitutionalize" the tort of defamation with New York Times v. Sullivan in 1964, numerous questions have arisen in this area, such as the elements that must be proven in a defamation claim, which party has the burden of proof, what impact the type of defendants have on the burden, what privileges are recognized under the law, and whether any such privileges are absolute or qualified. As a result, this area of the law has taken on a complexity not seen in almost any other tort practice. The practice area requires an extremely high degree of skill and thoroughness to adequately provide legal services in this area.

Preclusion of Other Employment

23. The 109.2 hours of time expended by Haynes and Boone attorneys on the Motion to Compel represents only a fraction of the total fees worked on this matter over the course of five months. This time represents a substantial amount of time expended by us on all legal matters during the relevant time period. I have and Haynes and Boone, LLP, has a steady supply of paying clients on whose cases or matters these same attorneys could have worked if I had not chosen to render services to Defendants.

Customary Fee

24. In cases involving defamation against the media, hourly rates do not typically vary by community. The practice is so complex and specialized that only a small number of Texas attorneys are qualified to perform these services for clients. Those highly-qualified attorneys travel to where a case is pending. Thus, in this circumstance, the relevant “community” is more accurately seen as the entire State of Texas. The hourly rates involved in this case are comparable to that of the small number of similarly-qualified attorneys in this field of practice in Texas.

25. The rates charged in this case—either $485 or $475 for partners and either $395 or $325 for associates—are comparable to or less than other rates found reasonable in the State of Texas. See, e.g., Slipchenko v. Brunel Energy, Inc., No. 11-1465, 2015 WL 338358, at *19 (S.D. Tex. Jan. 23, 2015) (finding that billing rates ranging from $415 to $530 for associates are generally comparable to the rates charged by Texas-based firms handling complex litigation matters and that associate rates at Bracewell & Guiliani, another large law firm, range from $275-$700 for associates); S & H Ind., Inc. v. Selander, Civil Action No. 3:11-CV-2988-M-BH, 2014 WL 1116700, at *6 (N.D. Tex. 2014) (Lynn, J.) (finding $468 to be a reasonable hourly fee for an associate attorney); Baltasar D. Cruz v. James Van Sickle, et al., Cause No. DC-12-09275 (160th Dist. Ct., Dallas County, Tex. March 22, 2013), reversed on other grounds (finding attorney’s fees of Jackson Walker to be reasonable at rates of $835 for partner, Charles Babcock, $585 for partner,

Nancy Hamilton, $375 for Audra Welter, and $380 for associate, Ryan Pitman); Final Judgment and Affidavit, Mapp v. Dallas Morning News, No. DC-14-02118 (191st Dist. Ct., Dallas County, Tex. July 3, 2014 (finding attorney's fees of $500 per hour for partner, Paul Watler, reasonable); Order Granting Motion for Attorney's Fees for Integracare, Crazy Hotel Assisted Living, Ltd. v. Newspaper Holdings, Inc., Cause No. 2011-74615 (234th District Court, Harris County, Tex., 2014) (finding rate of $480 per hour for partner, Robert Latham reasonable).

26. The rates charged in this case also represent a significant discount from the Haynes and Boone attorneys' standard market rates, which range from $1,000 to $630.

Monetary Amount Involved and Results Obtained

27. This case is very important for Defendants. Butowsky seeks $60,000,000 in damages, making it a financially important case to defend. But the case also involves Defendants' important First Amendment rights to report on an ongoing matter of public concern. Defendants need documents from Butowsky to defend themselves against such a large financial demand and protect their constitutional rights.

28. Defendants' Motion to Compel presented such compelling evidence of discovery misdeeds that the Court granted all substantive requests and overruled Butowsky's objections. The evidence also convinced Butowsky's own lawyer to admit that his production had been "very inadequate."

Experience, Reputation, and Ability of the Attorneys

29. The experience, reputations, and abilities of the lawyers performing the services are addressed above and in Exhibits A-D. That testimony is incorporated as if fully set forth herein.

Nature and Duration of the Professional Relationship

30. The relationship between Haynes and Boone and Defendants involves an arms-length transaction, with no attendant considerations that might call into question the reasonableness of the hourly rates I charged or the number of hours I expended. This was not pro bono representation, and Haynes and Boone has been paid the fees charged throughout the course of this litigation.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed on the 24th day of June, 2020 in Austin, Texas.

Laura Lee Prather is a partner in the Litigation Practice Group in the Austin office of Haynes and Boone. Laura focuses her practice on First Amendment, Anti-SLAPP, intellectual property and media and entertainment litigation and appeals. She has significant government relations experience as an advocate at the Texas Legislature on First Amendment and open government concerns. Laura advises an extensive array of content providers including online and traditional newspapers, magazines, radio and broadcasters, cable television stations, production companies and music and sports entities. Laura co-authored a definitive law review article on the Texas Citizens Participation Act with First Court of Appeals Justice Jane Bland, "Bullies Beware: Safeguarding Constitutional Rights Through Anti-SLAPP In Texas," 47 Tex. Tech L. Rev. 725 (Summer 2015), which was selected by the Texas Bar College to receive The Franklin Jones Best CLE Article in 2015.

Laura was instrumental in the passage of the three most significant pieces of First Amendment legislation in recent history in Texas – the reporters' privilege, the Texas Citizens Participation Act, and the Defamation Mitigation Act. Through her efforts, Laura both formed and led the coalitions in support of all three of these measures, making Texas the 37th state to pass a reporters' privilege, the 28th state to adopt an Anti-SLAPP statute, and the 32nd state to enact a retraction statute. All three laws are designed to promote and protect free speech rights in Texas.

Laura has been named by The American Lawyer as one of the 45 best young women lawyers in the nation. She was recognized for her substantial career as a fierce advocate dedicated to preserving First Amendment rights, defending media companies in cases involving reporting on matters of public concern, and defending entertainment companies in theft of idea, trademark and copyright infringement litigation. In addition, Laura is the first woman to receive Texas Daily Newspaper Association's "Legacy Award," and has been named Texas Association of Broadcasters' "Associate of the Year" and as one of Texas Lawyer's "Extraordinary Women in Texas Law." Her clients have recognized her as a BTI Client Service All-Star.

Laura recently received The American Lawyer's Tony Mauro Media Lawyer Award in recognition of tireless and successful efforts advocating for legislation to strengthen First Amendment rights in Texas. George Freeman, executive director of the Media Law Resource Center, nominated Prather for the award, saying she "has changed the legal landscape for free speech rights in Texas."

The Chambers guide states: Laura Prather of Haynes and Boone "is very well-versed on First Amendment law, transparency law and the appellate process," says one interviewee. Her clients include newspapers, magazines, broadcasters, television stations and production companies. Clients appreciate that "she is a dogged and determined warrior for us. She works long hours, produces high-quality work, and does a fine job with her legal writing for appeals and amicus briefs."

In addition to her private practice, Laura has served as the program attorney for the national television shows Christina's Court and Judge Alex, serves as an adjunct professor at the University of Texas School of Law in Media & Entertainment Law, and was the editor of the E-Copyright Law Handbook published by Aspen Law and Business.

Laura works on legislative initiatives and lobbying as a member of the Texas Association of Broadcasters' Legislative Task Force, the Public Participation Project's National Board of Directors, the General Counsel for the Legislative Advisory Committee of the Texas Press Association, and as a co-chair of the Freedom of Information Foundation of Texas' Legislative Committee. She also started and was the inaugural chair of the Media Law Resource Center's State Legislative Committee, bringing together lawyers from virtually every state that work on legislation impacting First Amendment rights and government transparency.

In addition, Laura was recently appointed to the Uniform Law Commission as the American Bar Association's (ABA) Advisor to the Drafting Committee on the Anti-SLAPP Act.

David Harper is a Haynes and Boone partner, trial lawyer and member of the firm's board of directors. David solves clients' complex business problems and implements their strategies both in the courtroom and the boardroom as a trusted business advisor. He has served as lead counsel for the most significant and complex disputes clients have - ranging from semiconductor fabrication patent and trade secrets, oil and gas transactions, public pensions, or disputes about the sale of major businesses.

Teams that David has led or co-led have achieved remarkable success. For example, his team recently successfully defended a major semiconductor fabrication company in a patent infringement case in which the plaintiff conceded defeat in the trial court after a favorable Markman ruling. He successfully defended clients in a multi-week trial and then on appeal against claims of copyright infringement regarding video distribution rights. He also led a team that defeated claims in the trial court of alleged theft of software as trade secrets. Likewise in business disputes, he recently pursued claims for fraud against sellers of a business to a major work wear manufacturing company which was then mutually settled. David and the Haynes and Boone team he led won a multi-year battle defeating claims of alleged shareholder oppression in the Texas Supreme Court. And, he defended and resolved multiple lawsuits against the prominent founder of a major independent oil and gas company from claims about buyouts of other investors.

David's skills are sought out by boards seeking him as a member, including Baylor University, where he has served for several years as the chair of multiple committees. David has also served in significant leadership roles in the firm, including as the co-chair of the firm's overall litigation practice, chair of the IP Litigation practice, and on multiple firm management committees.

David has been recognized in The Best Lawyers in America, Woodward/White, Inc., for Litigation - Intellectual Property, 2014-2020; Texas Super Lawyers, Thomson Reuters, 2003-2019; D Magazine's "Best Lawyers in Dallas" (2009 and 2018), D Magazine Partners, and is peer-review rated as AV Preeminent by Martindale Hubbell Law Directory.

Stephanie Sivinski is able to weave complicated concepts into persuasive written advocacy that both the court and the fact-finder can understand. She has obtained trial victories in technologically complex cases ranging from patent-infringement to breach-of-contract matters. Her practice has touched on technology as varied as pharmaceuticals, thermodynamics, computer software, and semiconductor manufacturing. Whether in motion practice before the federal district court or briefing in the courts of appeals, Stephanie can convey the necessary technical detail while focusing on the important legal and factual issues. Clients highly value this skill, particularly in federal court litigation where most decisions are based entirely on the parties' written submissions.

Before putting her technical and writing skills to work in patent, copyright, and trade secret disputes, Stephanie honed these skills as a judicial law clerk to a United States District Judge. While pursuing an undergraduate degree in genetics, Stephanie developed a working knowledge of organic chemistry, biochemistry, analytical chemistry, microbiology, and molecular genetics. As an undergraduate research assistant, she frequently performed DNA amplification, reverse transcription, and gel electrophoresis techniques.

In addition to her civil litigation practice, Stephanie has devoted a great deal of time to pro bono representation of an inmate on Texas death row. She participated in the two-week-long evidentiary hearing on his petition for writ of mandamus and presented evidence that her client is ineligible for the death penalty under the Eighth Amendment's prohibition on executing intellectually disabled individuals. Stephanie takes great pride in the opportunity to tell her client's story.

Wesley Lewis is an associate in the Intellectual Property Litigation Practice Group in the Austin office of Haynes and Boone.

Wesley's practice focuses on assisting clients on a wide range of litigation matters, including Anti-SLAPP, First Amendment, intellectual property, and media and entertainment litigation. He has advised and represented clients in disputes and appeals in the advertising, internet and digital media, print media, financial services, and pharmaceutical industries, among others. He has drafted motions to dismiss, motions for summary judgment, and numerous other pleadings, briefs, and motions at all stages of litigation.

Wesley is a graduate of Harvard Law School, where he worked extensively on issues relating to copyright, free speech, and digital media. He served as a teaching fellow for CopyrightX, a 12-week networked course on copyright law, and he was a clinical student at the Berkman Klein Center for Internet and Society.

Prior to joining Haynes and Boone, Wesley worked as a litigation associate in New York, where he focused on securities, financial services, and media and First Amendment litigation.
